Curtis & Gordon sold yesterday for Mr. B. B. Frazer 100 acres of land off of the north end of his farm to Mr. D. A. Quick of Hardin, Ray county, Mo., consideration $4,250.

Some excitement was caused on our streets Monday afternoon, by the arrest of Ben Scott. Scott was causing a disturbance on the street. He was ordered to move on by Officer Walk but instead of doing so he drew a knife and started to attack him. Mr. Walk drew his pistol to intimidate Scott and it was accidentally discharged into the street. Scott was taken to the calaboose and was removed to the jail this morning to await trial on charge of resisting arrest and assault with intent to kill.

Mayor McBurney of Odessa and Joseph B. Shelby of Bates City were in this city Monday and were inquiring whether it was too late to interest the committee and the promoter in running the proposed electric line to Odessa. They were told that Chief Engineer Weston of the South Side Elevated Railway, Chicago, and Consulting Engineers Waddell & Hedrick will be here Saturday and they will be shown over the two Mayview lines, the intermediate line and a possible route to Odessa. Of course the citizens committee will finally determine the route subject to the advice of the engineers.

MOTHERS, BE CAREFUL. Of the health of your children. Look out for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Sold by Crenshaw & Young, Druggists.

William B. Mock died at the home of his son, G. W. Mock in Odessa Saturday November 19, 1904, after a week's illness of pneumonia, in his 76th year.

James McComb died at his home in north Odessa at 12:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, November 23, 1904, after a lingering illness of consumption, age 46 years, 10 months and 26 days.

The Lexington bridge now looks as if it will be a go. Only a little over a thousand dollars is needed and the citizens of the county-seat ought to get this sum with but little exertion. The electric line that goes with the bridge proposition, it built, will probably run to Mayview.—Odessa Ledger.

Thirteen cars of cattle were shipped from Waverly Monday. This shipment was the largest from Waverly this fall and represented between $20,000 and $25,000. The shippers were as follows: N. P. Book, ten cars to Chicago, C. M. Miller, P. S. Yancey, Harry Steel each one car to Kansas City.—Waverly Watchman.

N. M. Houx, wife and little daughter, moved to Lexington this week where they will make their future home. They have made their home here for a long time and our people give them up reluctantly. Mr. and Mrs. Houx are too well known to the people of Lexington to need any recommendation at our hands.—Odessa Democrat.

Coral Maxwell and Miss Alice Everett were married at the home of the bride, Sunday evening, Elder J. W. Coggins officiating. Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present. The wedding came not exactly in the manner of a surprise as there were rumors several days previous that such an event was about to happen.—Odessa Ledger.

Died, near Chapel Hill, Nov. 6, 1904, Mrs. Mahulda Lundy, aged nearly 93 years. She was born in North Carolina, moving to Carroll County. She was twice married, her first husband being Isaac Beamer. After his death she married Samuel Lundy, moving to Missouri, a number of years ago. She had been a consistent member of the Baptist church for 43 years.—Odessa Ledger.

Weak Hearts. Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, putting it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kable, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had stomach trouble with it. I took Kodol Digestive. Cure for about four months and it cured me."

Kodol Digests What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure.

Bottles only $1.00 Six holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

To Get Eggs in Winter.

The following plan has proved a success, and I am still following it, and will as long as I get the same results:

First, I placed in the scratching sheds a good supply of litter, hay, straw, cut fodder or any light or dry material.

The first thing in the morning, I scatter small grain in this litter, about a half feed. The hens at once begin to work getting their breakfast, harrow to work for every grain they get.

This warms them up, starts circulation, gives them an appetite, makes them warm, happy and healthy.

About noon I throw another light feed in the litter and this starts them to work again with renewed energy.

Now they will be scratching from early in the morning to the shades of evening.

Early in the evening I give them a mash comp seed of most any kind of mill feed, fed warm I give them all they will eat up to fifteen minutes, fed in clean troughs.

Grit, oyster shells, etc., are constantly before them and fresh water warmed is placed before them once or twice a day.

About every other day cabbage is hung up in each pen for green food. I also slice up a mess of raw potatoes for them occasionally. I prefer to feed the mash in the evening, for if fed in the morning they have no desire to scratch for exercise, which I think has almost as much to do with egg production as feed, especially in winter.

With good pure bred stock, a house having a tight water and wind proof roof, walls and floor, and this plan followed, I think good results can be obtained. I have secured from twenty-four to twenty-eight eggs in thirty January and February days per hen, from Barred Rocks and Buff Orpington and White Wyandottes, fed on the above plan.—Correspondent in Practical Farmer.

HEART FLUTTERING.

Missouri State Teachers Association.

In 1895 an organization of many of the teachers of music in all branches of the state was effected; and since then nearly meetings have been held at various places.

The objects of the association are to develop general interest in the higher forms of music, to stimulate the music teachers to more intelligent and united activity, and bring them together once a year so that all may have the benefits of concerts by the best available artists and round table discussions on the teaching of Public School music, Piano, Voice, Violin, Organ and theoretical work.

All teachers of music should give this their serious attention. The dues are $2.00 the first year and $1.00 the succeeding year; and this admits the member to all the dozen or more concerts and the dozen or more round table discussions at the June meetings; which are led, by the way, by acknowledged specialists in their particular musical line.

The next meeting will be held in Carthage, Missouri, June 20-23, 1905. Dues should be sent to the Secretary.

President: T. Carl Whitmer, Columbia, Missouri.

Secretary-Treasurer: Horace P. Dibble, 723 N. Spring Ave., St. Louis, Missouri.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed C. Nod, Iowa, Sedgwick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Crenshaw & Young Druggists.

Turpentine For Seed Corn.

I have used kerosene on seed corn. I have also used turpentine for many years on all of my seed corn. We usually use a pan or dipper to fill our planter boxes and in each dipper we use turpentine freely, stirring the corn with the hand until all the corn is wet with turpentine. We like turpentine best, as it evaporates about as fast as the planter boxes are filled. It prevents worms or grubs from eating corn on soddy land. You can also use freely on your seed beans as soon as you see indication of weevils, either in spring, fall or winter. It will kill all of them. Don't be afraid to use plenty of turpentine—try a few kernels of good, sound seed corn by saturating and planting same—testing vitality after treatment—so as to satisfy yourself.—H. H. Keely, Indiana, in Farmers' Voice.

When judges speak

they will tell you that the greatest expense of warming a building is in the fuel, labor and the destructiveness of ashes and soot, not for the apparatus. Why not put a little more money, at first, into buying a HOT WATER OR STEAM SYSTEM, and get more out of your other expense.

Recommended School Legislation.

State Superintendent Carrington is preparing his annual report to be submitted to the general assembly when it convenes in January. He will make some positive recommendations concerning school legislation along three lines,—changing text-books and providing efficient supervision of rural schools and training teachers for these schools. Among other things, he will say:

"The text-book situation is very unsatisfactory. The present contracts have been in existence for eight years and some of the books have been in use fourteen. Missouri cannot afford to have its school interests suffer longer on account of inferior books. The best books published can be had as cheap as the poorest. Uniformity in text-books should be continued in the rural and village schools and their selection referred to a permanent commission, non-partisan or bi-partisan, composed mainly of educational experts, persons who have made a study of education. With such a commission, there will be no trouble in getting best books at lowest prices and in making selections so as to preserve unity in the course of study. It is hoped that the lobby will no longer be able to play one political party against the other to prevent legislation on this important subject.

"Within the past two years, the State Superintendent has come in personal contact with every rural teacher in the state. These teachers are young men and women of Missouri. In character, in general intelligence, in sympathetic interest in the State's welfare, the teachers stand easily first. They are willing, yes anxious, to improve conditions and they make personal sacrifices in professional preparation and in bringing to the schools what the twentieth century demands. The task is uneven. The state has not done its whole duty. It should provide efficient County Supervision. High qualifications and effective service should be demanded and a liberal salary paid. Supervision of rural schools is more important to the state than supervision of city schools. Rural teachers recognize that the greatest need is efficient leadership.

The State Normal Schools are doing a great work. Their enrollment and efficiency have increased twenty percent in two years; yet not more than one teacher in every six in the state has ever attended a Normal School. Not more than one teacher in ten in the rural schools has ever had any pedagogical training, except such as may be had at teachers' meeting. The State needs four thousand new teachers every year. Three Normal Schools can not supply more than six hundred of these out of their annual enrollment of three thousand. To furnish proper training, the State should organize a large number of local training schools for teachers. Four-fifths of our teachers get all their preparation in the small high schools. The state should aid these schools to the end that they be properly equipped with teachers, buildings, libraries and apparatus and prospective teachers induced to better preparation, both academic and professional, before entering upon the work. This will lead many teachers to make more extended, better and special preparation in the State Normal Schools."
